The only company in a leading position in all areas

MHP is a leading partner to the global manufacturing industry

- The ISG Provider Lens® report rates MHP as a leading partner to the manufacturing industry
- MHP is the only company in the study to be ranked as a leader in all four key areas identified by ISG
- The areas evaluated include: Design and Development Services, Smart/Digital Factory Services, Supply Chain and Aftermarket Services, and Technology, Transformation, and Consulting Services

Ludwigsburg – In the report titled “Manufacturing Industry Services and Solutions – Mid-tier and Specialist IT Firms,” MHP achieved the best possible position. The management and IT consultancy was the only company rated by the ISG Provider Lens® study as a leader in all four key areas of the manufacturing industry.

Markus Wambach, Group COO at MHP: “This top rating by ISG Provider Lens® underscores our leading role as a transformation partner to the manufacturing industry. As a leader in all four key areas, we regard this accolade as an acknowledgment of our work, but it also serves to motivate us to continue to support our customers with innovative and sustainable solutions in the future.”

Back in November 2025, MHP was named a Rising Star by ISG Provider Lens® in the German market for Data Modernization & AI Services provided by Amazon Web Services (AWS).

Companies are considered leaders if they have a comprehensive range of products and services, a strong market presence, and an established competitive position. The product portfolios and competitive strategies are strongly positioned to secure business in the markets covered by the study. The leading companies are also characterized by their innovative strength and competitive stability.

The ISG study distinguishes “Leader” from “Product Challenger,” “Market Challenger” and “Contender,” carrying out a detailed evaluation of a company’s capabilities in the areas of

Design and Development Services, Smart/Digital Factory Services, Supply Chain and Aftermarket Services, and Technology, Transformation, and Consulting Services.

"Being at the top of the rankings in all key areas of the manufacturing industry confirms our DNA, our experience acquired over almost thirty years, and the clear course we have set, consistently focusing on our customers' needs. Our success factors include an outstanding performance mindset, real innovative strength, profound technological expertise, the highest quality standards, and a strong partner network with the world's leading technology companies," said Federico Magno, Group CEO at MHP.

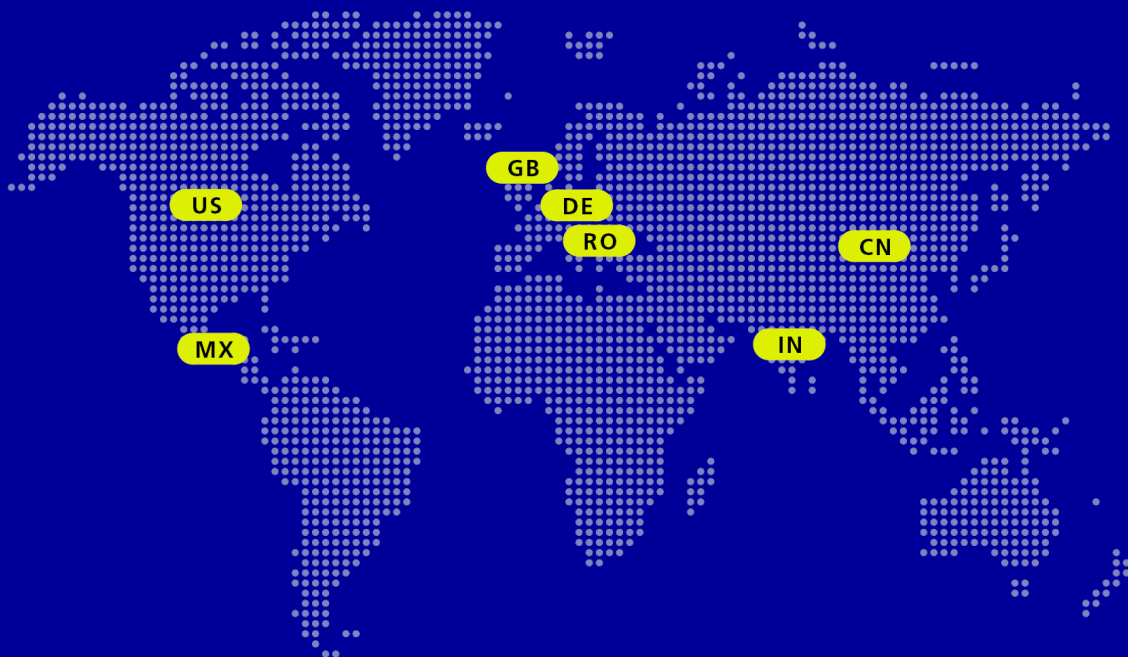

Highlights from the study

ISG's Principal Analyst Swadhin Pradhan summarized the MHP ratings in the key areas as follows:

- Design and Development Services
"With a strong consulting foundation, MHP guides clients through reengineering processes, agile transformation of engineering teams, and strategic technology adoption, aligning business goals with engineering innovation."
- Smart/Digital Factory Services
"MHP's deep domain expertise, robust partner ecosystem, and an extensive portfolio of proprietary platform solutions enable measurable outcomes in cost reduction, operational efficiency, and scalable growth in the manufacturing industry."
- Supply Chain and Aftermarket Services
"MHP leverages deep domain expertise, cloud partnerships, and proprietary accelerators to deliver transformative supply chain and aftermarket services, enhancing operational efficiency, service delivery, and CSAT."
- Technology, Transformation, and Consulting Services
"Drawing on its VW Group connection, MHP leverages automotive best practices for broader manufacturing settings, enabling rapid digital adoption in complex, engineering-driven industries."

The global study from the ISG Provider Lens® Quadrant research series details the current challenges facing the manufacturing industry and evaluates the capabilities of 41 IT consultancies that specialize in supporting the industry and generate an annual turnover of less than USD 3 billion. The authors combine their empirical, data-driven research and market analysis with the practical experience and observations of ISG's global consulting team. Companies will find detailed data and market analysis in the study, helping them to select suitable sourcing partners.
