Ludwigsburg – The management and IT consultancy MHP has been presented with the PUR Award 2025 by the renowned research and analysis firm techconsult, placing it among the top nine providers in the field of managed SAP S/4HANA. With its outstanding marks, MHP is well above average at both company and solution level, making it one of the leaders in the Professional User Rating (PUR).

Markus Wambach, Group COO at MHP: "The award confirms our approach: we consistently focus on the requirements of our customers. In order to implement even complex transformation projects sustainably, we go above and beyond the standard. Our industry expertise in the automotive and manufacturing industries enables us to precisely understand the specific challenges of our customers and develop tailor-made solutions on this basis."

One of the largest SAP S/4HANA projects in MHP's 28-year history was the transition undertaken at Porsche AG in 2023/2024. The system change took place during ongoing operations, proving that the management and IT consultancy can efficiently master complex large-scale projects under challenging conditions. With the aid of hybrid project management methodology based on Scaled Agile Frameworks (SAFe), S/4HANA was implemented in a manner that focused on the customer and at the same time was geared toward the standard. The emphasis is always on the particular user-friendliness and continuous optimization. MHP involves users at an early stage and improves user guidance based on real feedback – a key factor for acceptance at the user company.
