MHP UK moves into new office in Soho, London

Tailor-made consulting services from the heart of the British metropolis

- More space in a central location: MHP UK with a new office in Soho
- Second location in Great Britain
- Strong growth of the British subsidiary

London - MHP Consulting UK Limited - a subsidiary of the management and IT consultancy MHP GmbH - is moving into a new office in London's trendy Soho district. The new offices are located in the Fora co-working space at 33 Broadwick Street. The building impresses with stunning architecture, has seven floors with bright, light-flooded work areas that increase productivity and promote well-being.

"Now that we have officially outgrown our offices in Reading, it was time to open a second location in the UK - where else but London? We are delighted that we can now also work with our clients from here," says Dr Oliver Oswald, Partner at MHP.

"MHP is looking to an exciting future. London is the perfect location for us to continue our accelerated growth in the coming years and ensures that we continue to attract the best talents," says Guy Williamson, CEO of MHP Consulting UK Limited.

The British subsidiary of the MHP Group and its client Aston Martin recently won one of the coveted WirtschaftsWoche "Best of Consulting Awards" with an online configurator. With its high level of specialisation in processes and technologies in the automotive industry, MHP is a reliable partner for its customers, acting at eye level - driven by their demand for excellence.

The address of the new offices in central London is:

MHP Consulting UK Ltd.
33 Broadwick Street,
London, W1F 0DQ

An aerial photograph of a winding asphalt road that curves through a dense, lush green forest. The trees are vibrant green, with some areas appearing slightly yellowed, possibly due to sunlight filtering through. The road has white lane markings and a few small cars are visible on it. The overall scene is peaceful and natural.
